Category	Salinity range
Fresh	0-500 mg/L TDS (suitable for selected agricultural use)
Marginal	500-1000 mg/L TDS (suitable for selected agricultural use)
Brackish	1000-3000 mg/L TDS (used for parkland irrigation)
Saline	3000-35,000 mg/L TDS (industrial use and stock watering up to 10,000mg/L)
Hypersaline	>35,000 mg/L TDS

Mosquito-borne Disease Risk:

Risk Level - Low or unknown risk

Frequent high and occasional very high risk

The selected area is in a region that frequently experiences problems with nuisance and disease carrying mosquitoes, and severe issues are also experienced in some years depending on environmental conditions.

Low or unknown risk

This location has not experienced high rates of mosquito-borne disease in the past. However, the sporadic nature of mosquito-borne disease outbreaks means that this not necessarily a precise indicator of future risk. Furthermore, regions with low or no resident human population may also be classified as low risk even though there may be an undocumented high risk in the area. Finally, significant mosquito nuisance issues may still be experienced, despite a low health risk.

Residents are advised to avoid exposure to mosquitoes and minimise mosquito breeding around the home as appropriate, particularly following extreme weather events such as heavy rainfall, high tides (in coastal areas) or localised flooding that may create abnormally large areas of mosquito breeding habitat.

For information on mosquito control in your local area or to report a mosquito problem please contact your Local Government Environmental Health Officer.

Residual Current Devices (RCDs) monitor the flow of electricity from the main switchboard and prevent electrocution by cutting the electricity supply if an imbalance in the current is detected. At least two RCDs must be fitted before land title is transferred.

Affect of Interest:

All home sellers and landlords must ensure that RCDs are installed in accordance with the Electricity Regulations to protect all power points and lighting circuits. RCDs cut the electricity supply instantly if a person touches a live part and receives a shock. By installing two or more RCDs, the property's circuits can be divided evenly between them, ensuring some light and power remains if one RCD operates. Multiple RCDs also avoid nuisance operation caused by appliances with low-level leakage currents. All properties constructed after 2000 should already have two RCDs fitted. Two RCDs must be fitted to protect all power points and lighting circuits in all homes before the land title is transferred. If you are planning to sell your home and it does not already have two RCDs protecting all power point and lighting circuits, you will need to engage a licensed electrical contractor to install them to comply with the Electricity Regulations.

Landlords must ensure RCDs are installed in accordance with the Electricity Regulations. If RCDs are not fitted, tenants should contact the managing agent or landlord and request that RCDs be installed as required.

Affect of Interest:

The Building Regulations 2012 in Western Australia requires owners to have mains-powered smoke alarms fitted to all dwellings that are subject to transfer of ownership, rent and hire, regardless of when they were built.
